Extra Information for Exam Students — School Year 2025–2026

Updated April 2026

Overview

For students in their exam year, classes run only until the exam period (usually late April or the first week of May). The yearly fee is therefore divided over 9 months instead of 11. Exam students also receive extra lessons during school vacations, except the Christmas break, so total instructional time is higher, plus the mandatory Plus Package, which makes the total amount of class time increasingly higher than in previous years. Altogether, this results in a higher invoice, not a much higher fee.

Mandatory Plus Package

All exam students must take the Plus Package. This adds a 30-minute session before the regular class for targeted test exercises, so regular lesson time can be used more effectively.

Summary of key points

- Tuition is spread over 9 months instead of 11 months.
- Extra lessons are given during almost all school vacations, except the Christmas break.
- The Plus Package provides extra study time and improves lesson efficiency.
- The overall yearly fee remains almost the same, but monthly payments are higher because the payment period is shorter and class time increases.
